Next Year School Budget $18,280 More Than Last

Our school officials are looking forward to and preparing for higher costs for the conduct of the schools the coming year, in line with other advancing costs, higher salaries, etc.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees, Monday evening, together with Superintendent Scutt and former Superintendent Henry F. Korsmeier, the budget for the coming year, July 1, 1946 to July 1, 1947, was adopted.

It was estimated that the sum of $94,383 will be required to cover expenses as compared with $76,103 the past year.

The Budget is published in this issue of the NEWS showing that the sum of $45,000 must be raised by District taxes, which with cash on hand, state aid and other sources of revenue will provide the amount needed.

An itemized statement of the cost of running the Cafeteria is also included although no part of that comes from taxes but entirely from the sale of food. It is estimated that Cafeteria sales will amount to $9,000 the coming year as compared to $7,533 the past 12 months.

Both funds show nice balances in the bank to start the new year.

FOSTER PARENTS PLAN RELIEVING EUROPEAN YOUTH

Two hundred and seventy residents of California have contributed toward the support of children overseas, through the Foster Parent's Plan for War Children. The plan operates 56 children's projects in France, England, Holland, Italy, Malta, Belgium and is caring for many more children in other European war areas.

Womens' clubs, sororities, PTA groups, Alumni luncheon clubs and individuals have become Foster Parents. Individuals well known include, Mrs. James Couzens, Kate Smith, Dr. John H. Holmes, Allan Jones, Tallulah Bankhead, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Jack Benny and Fred Allen.

Local Doctor Moves Into New Building

The new medical building at 80 West Sierra Madre Blvd., was occupied last week by Dr. Nathan Jacobs. Returning to Sierra Madre, after two and one half years in military service, Dr. Jacobs, who has practiced medicine here for a number of years, began construction of the new building last October.

Complete with operating room, X-ray and examining rooms and laboratory, the building is modern in design and fully equipped for diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

Bethany Bible School Closes Friday Program

The Bethany Summer Bible School, now in its third and final week, will present a closing program and open house Friday evening, July 26, at 7:30 p. m. An interesting exhibit of handwork including a Guatemalan village made by the third and fourth grades will be on display in the annex from 6:45 p. m. until time for the program to begin.

The program, a demonstration of work covered during the term, will take approximately one hour and include musical numbers, use of an electrical map and an interpretation of Reynolds' painting, "Boy Samuel," shown by lantern slide.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

MASONIC DEGREE

Tuesday evening the Fellowship Degree was conferred upon Donald Hugh Jackson. There was a large attendance of Masons out and many visitors. Friday evening, July 26th, there will be a practice meeting of the third degree and next Tuesday, the 30th, the third degree will be given. Members are expected and visitors welcome.

Suman Pottery Expands With New Glazing Kiln

Doubles Capacity For Production

Doubling of the potential capacity at the A. L. Suman Pottery on Montecito street, has been made possible by the addition of a large new tunnel kiln, which began operation at the pottery on Saturday, according to William F. Mooney, assistant superintendent.

Equipped with the newest facilities for time and temperature control, for processing different types of pottery, the new 68-foot kiln, or oven, is to be used chiefly for the final or glazing process, according to present plans.

Temperatures up to 2500 degrees Fahrenheit are possible in the new kiln, which is fed by an adjustable conveyor for firing times varying from six to fifteen hours.

Known for its high quality California petal ware, the Suman pottery sells its products throughout the country, many of them going to outlets in New York, Chicago, and the South.

Post And Aux Have Public Installation

The newly elected officers of the American Legion Post and its auxiliary will be inducted into office at a joint installation ceremony, Wednesday evening, July 31st, eight o'clock at the Masonic Temple.

The installing officers for the Post will be the newly elected Commander of the 18th District, Claude Buzard, and for the Auxiliary, the 18th District president, Maude Rhodes.

The public is extended a very cordial invitation to witness the impressive ceremony and a special invitation is made to Veterans of World War I and their wives.

LIBRARY DONOR IS RETIRED SIERRA MADREAN

Meakness and humility are rare and beautiful qualities not met with too much in the present day. This week when the News office printed 1,000 modest book plates for a retired gentleman of Sierra Madre and made inquiry as to the use to be made of them the said gentleman very shyly replied, "I am presenting my personal library to the Spanish American Theological Seminary in Los Angeles." Continuing he admonished, "I do not care to have my name made public."

The library will be placed in its future housing in the very near future. It includes many sets of English literature, encyclopedias and books of theology. One set of 52 volumes is sermon outlines from Bible verses.

The gentleman, a retired lecturer and evangelist, emulates his grandfather, a minister of Massachusetts, who gave several rarely bound Bibles to Colgate University in New York.

TERRY CLARK, City Editor

The publishers of the Sierra Madre News are pleased to announce the addition of Terry Clark to the staff as City Editor. Mr. Clark, a graduate of Oklahoma A. and M. College with a major in journalism, comes to Sierra Madre directly from four years' service in the Navy where he served in the European Theatre as Lt. Commander in the Naval Armed Guard.

Previous to enlistment he was on the staff of the Pryor Daily, Pryor, Okla. Mrs. Clark and small daughter, Virginia, will arrive via air from Stillwater, Okla., tomorrow to make their home in the community.

WELL KNOWN ATTORNEY SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA. RITES FRIDAY

It was with general sadness that the news of the death of Walter F. Dunn, former city attorney, was passed from one to another. Mr. Dunn recently resigned as city attorney on account of ill health. He passed away Tuesday evening at St. Luke Hospital where he has been critically ill the past few days.

Dr. Dunn was of the firm of Dunn and Sturgeon and started his law practice in Monrovia in 1905. He graduated from Stanford in the class of 1904 and was a Native Son of California. His father was the first Comptroller of the State.

His life has been one of public service, not only serving Sierra Madre as attorney for 9 years, he was city attorney for Arcadia, 23 years; El Monte, 17; was a trustee of the Los Angeles County Bar Association.

Surviving are his wife, Helen Dunn, and five children, Edward L., John R., and Mary Frances living at home; Walter F. Dunn, Jr., and Mrs. Jack Kennelley of New York.

The funeral services will be Friday, 9:00 a. m., at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, corner of Shamrock and Old Foothill Boulevard, Monrovia.

There are approximately 142 carats of diamonds in one ounce.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following building permits have been issued in the month of July: A. S. Hewitt to build a dwelling at 630 Orange Drive; cost, $6,000. Frank S. Sowers to build a dwelling and garage at 225 Monte Vista Lane; cost $10,500. D. C. Stiedenger to build a dwelling at 617 West Grandview; cost, $7,500. Mr. and Mrs. Colnon to build a concrete block dwelling at 935 East Grandview, cost, $2,000.

AUXILIARY MEETS

An important meeting for ALA members will take place this evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Sylvia Quittner, 241 Ramona ave. This is the final meeting before the installation July 31st.

HENRY HAWXHURST AND HIS MECHANICAL SCARECROW

Artist Designs Device To Frighten Garden Raiders

It takes a bird of courage and iron nerves to invade the gardens of Henry Ivins Hawxhurst at 118 Esperanza ave., where Oscar, the mechanical scarecrow, keeps daily watch.

After 13 years of experimentation in scarecrow making and a study of the habits of birds, Mr. Hawxhurst announces his perfected hydraulic-action device which he attaches to a garden hose. Water pressure puts Oscar into motion, actuating a swaying wire hung with bird frightening objects and cans. Mammy, pictured above, plays her part as an alarm clock starts action at 3:30 a. m., favorite feeding time of the birds. Three ounces of water used in each pulsation, 20,000 vibrations a day are estimated, go right back into irrigation.

An artist, with a hobby for invention, Hawxhurst is little handicapped by scarcity of materials. His present model is made up of metal from old bed springs, a steamer trunk, tire pumps and a broom handle.

Another Hawxhurst device is the enthance gate to his studio home which opens at the approach of a car. A gong rings in the garden and chimes set off in the house announce the visitors' approach.

Supreme Court Story Told By Kiwanis Club Speaker

"Personalities of the Supreme Court" was the subject of an address by Milton Musser, Los Angeles attorney, at the Sierra Madre Kiwanis club luncheon on Tuesday. Musser, a resident of Sierra Madre, was secretary to the late Justice McReynolds of the U. S. Supreme Court and has a rich store of information about the members of the nation's highest court.

Gus Riherd, who is well known in local music circles, entertained the Kiwanians with piano soloes of Chopin's "Polonaise in C Minor" and "Boogie-Woogie" from Pete Johnson.

Two transferring Kiwanians were welcomed to Sierra Madre, and the following visitors were introduced: Clarence Huntsinger, E. C. Tingley and Clarence E. Crimble.

Next Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon will feature a book review by Mrs. Bruce McGill, and a talk by Judge Noren Eaton on the forthcoming county bond issue.

Sea Scouts May Be Next Local Plan

The July district meeting of the San Gabriel Valley Boy Scout Council was held at the William Kinney home, 695 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., at which time Mr. Kinney announced the nominating committee for next year as Harry Morley, Luke Gervais and Milton Goldberg.

The newest and latest project of the Council was the consideration of a Sea Scout group in Sierra Madre. The unit would serve not only boys interested in the sea and ships but the returned servicemen as well. The carrying out of this program will be the main feature of the next meeting, August 19th. A number of civic minded "tars" will be invited to attend and a recognized Sea Scout authority will be the speaker.

WOMAN'S CLUB LAUNCHES PROGRAM OF RELIEF WITH CLOTHING DRIVE MATERIAL TO BE SENT DIRECT

Mrs. J. Emory Diemer, president of the Sierra Madre Woman's club, announces a city wide, two week clothing drive to begin Monday, July 29th, ending Friday, August 9th.

The drive will be for summer clothing to be turned over to Mrs. J. Andrew Hall for shipment to the Philippine Islands missions where Dr. and Mrs. Hall worked for many years. Mrs. Hall has been sending clothing contributed by various churches for some time. The recipients were personally known to her and she has received many letters of gratitude, also stating that the need was still great.

Following is an excerpt from a Philippine letter: "Before I had time to mail the above letter your package arrived. You could imagine the happiness we all experienced. I cried for joy. The women especially need clothing. The men are not in such need for the US Navy saved them. Old clothing was bartered for souvenirs, even their mattress covers were traded for slippers and grass skirts. The price of clothes is very high; a cloth that would be enough for one dress costs 40 pesos ($20), pair of shoes, 30 pesos, plates 60 pesos per doz., and other things similar."

The Woman's club has planned to carry on personal contact philanthropy projects for the coming year and provide relief for needy families. The Relief and Welfare chairman, Mrs. John Fergus, has names and addresses of people in Europe who are in great need. All the warm clothing collected in the drive will be sent to Holland.

We reprint an excerpt of a letter to Mrs. Fergus from a history professor at the University at the Hague: "I know a family who lost everything in one of the bombardments, a father, mother, and ten children. You can understand they are in great embarrassment. There is another family for which I ask your help too, etc. etc."

Mrs. Fergus and her committee will be at the Woman's club house every afternoon during the drive from 2 to 4 to receive clothing contributions. Go through your closets again and see if you really will need that coat or suit, let the shivering people of Holland have it this winter instead of the moths.

Sierra Madre Scouts At San Antonio Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Gervais, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Newbery with Mrs. James Heasley spent Sunday at Boy Scout Camp San Antonio, Mt. Baldy. Bill Newbery, Happy Heasley and Ronnie Westerman of the Explorer Troop are at the camp.

Ronnie Westerman stays on for another week as a member of the camp staff and has been invited to be on the staff at the Catalina camp for ten days following the San Antonio camp

MAJOR E. B. DEGROOT, JR.

E. B. Degroot, Jr. On Champion E.T.O. Volleyball Team

Major Edward B. Degroot, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Degroot, of East Orange Grove Avenue, Sierra Madre, is fast gaining a reputation as an international volleyballer.

The former University of Kansas physical education instructor was a member of the powerful U. S. Army Air Force All Stars which copped the European Theatre volleyball championship by defeating the Niesei team at Leghorn, Italy.

A graduate of Monrovia high school and Stanford university, class of '32, Major Degroot entered the service in March of 1942 and arrived in the European theatre in January of this year.

He now serves as athletic officer for the U. S. Air Forces in Europe, the organization that is policing the American Zone in Germany from the air. Major Degroot's wife, Mrs. Ruth Evans Degroot, makes her home in Pasadena. A brother, Pvt. Hugo Degroot is now serving at McClellan Field, California.

'Come With Your Work Clothes On' Kiwanis Welcome

Prospect of sufficient material becoming available soon to complete the Youth Recreation Hut project at the water works park was announced yesterday by William H. Estes, in an appeal for more volunteers to rally to the work meetings this coming Sunday between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m.

The Kiwanis sponsored project is in reality a project for the entire community and as such merits the support of everyone, Estes pointed out. Unless more voluntary work is contributed soon, the project may fail of completion, he said.

Conceived in the interest of Sierra Madre young people, the Youth Hut and recreational center will provide a meeting place for all local young people's organizations, and will include badminton courts, soft ball field and a barbecue.

Pressing problem now before those working on the hut is completion of the roof and the doing of essential work on the grounds.

A hearty welcome is extended by the Kiwanis club to all who will give a hand on this community project. An especially hearty welcome, according to Estes, is extended to members of the Lions club.

CORP. JEAN VIERA

Corp. Jean Vieira of 487 Woodland Drive, is the first Sierra Madre woman to re-enlist in the Army. She has been stationed at Camp Atterbury in Indiana and after a furlough in Maine will resume her work at Camp Meade, Maryland.

Rent Control Discussed As Complaints Are Heard

A complete new optometrist's office and optical laboratory was opened on Monday of this week by Dr. Daniel L. D'Arcy, O.D., at 28 West Sierra Madre Boulevard.

Dr. D'Arcy has practiced optometry for five years in Los Angeles and has practiced in Monrovia for the past two years.

WINS NURSING SCHOLARSHIP BY CLUB WOMEN

Mayda Linder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. De Nault, 1131 Singing Wood Drive, was honored by being selected as one of 11 Pasadena Junior College girls to be trained as nurses on scholarships offered by federated women's clubs in this metropolitan area. Mayda will be sent by the district to Knapp Nursing School in Santa Barbara next February.

Miss Mayda has been active on the campus, belonging to Red Cross and Fabiolian, a pre-nursing club. She belonged to the Ski club and enthusiastically participated in art and drama affairs.

With the General hospital pleading for 300 nurses and the Veterans' hospital at Van Nuys for 100 and the government aid for training nurses removed as of last October the need is positively urgent and these Pasadena Junior College girls and their womens' club sponsors have made a magnificent response.

Surgeon General Thomas E. Parran has urged women's clubs to aid in this humanitarian necessity.

BENEFIT DANCE SET FOR AUGUST 3rd AT TEMPLE

The Junior Baseball group known as the Sierra Madre Athletic Club have a date for their mid-summer dance at the Masonic Temple as August 3rd. The team will be wearing their new uniforms this week, the result of the dance held in June but they continue to need equipment. According to Harold Roberts of the American Legion which is sponsoring the team, "It takes quite a bit to keep a ball team going".

The team has experienced a whole hearted support from all especially the Forest Fire Fighter Service and the Masonic group and from the benefit of the August 3rd dance will be able to round out the season as a credit to themselves and sponsors.

Approval of the subdivision of the Ralph M. Jones property in Southeast Sierra Madre, as proposed in the original petition, was voted at a session of the city council Tuesday evening. The council also heard complaints of congested parking conditions on Montecito street, reports of local rent increases and threatened eviction of tenants.

Despite some local opposition to the establishment of a dead-end street in the new subdivision, no opposing voice was raised at the session, and the council approved the measure without a dissenting vote.

Located north of Orange Grove Avenue in the Southeast part of the city, the subdivision will be built on either side of a dead-end street that will open onto Orange Grove but which will not continue through to Mountain Trail Avenue, according to the development plans.

Complaints by the E. K. Wood Lumber Co. and the Southern California Gas Co. that their driveways are being blocked by parked cars on Montecito Street were referred to the police department.

A letter was read containing charges of exorbitant rent increases and threatened eviction of tenants within the city. The legal opinion was expressed by City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds that a 30-day notice is required by a landlord before rent can legally be increased or evictions acted upon. Mayor Milton Steinberger pointed out that since both the Federal and State governments are working on rent control measures, all city governments are now being advised to hold up action in that realm.

A proposal that zoning regulations be lifted during the present emergency, to permit trailer camps in the city and to create multiple family dwellings in one family zones, was referred to the planning commission.

A letter was read in the name of all local veterans organizations, proposing construction of a Veterans' Memorial building on the city property adjoining the Woman's club building on Sierra Madre boulevard. Popular subscription was the proposed basis of financing the project. The proposal was tabled for study and consideration.

A request by R. A. Hawks that the city assist in creating a settling basin for overflow water from the potteries and other factories on Montecito Street was referred to City Water Superintendent Joe Swanson for survey.

Letters requesting a higher wage scale for Sierra Madre city employees was referred to a committee of the whole for study and consideration.

An amendment to the city dog ordinance, providing fines for those who are tardy in renewing dog licenses, was discussed and continued until a future session.

At the beginning of the council session, members joined in a minute of silent prayer, at the suggestion of Mayor Milton Steinberger, for recently retired City Attorney Walter Dunn who was reported critically ill.

Trailer Camp Opposed By Local C. of C.

Issues raised by the proposed establishment of a trailer camp in the city featured the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce meeting on Monday evening. Following a discussion of the proposal, a letter was drafted to the City Council recommending disapproval of the development.

Reasons cited for opposing location of a trailer camp in the area adjoining the water works park were the increase of fire hazards and the added risk of water pollution in the area, which is adjacent to the city water wells.

Recommendations were made to the City Council for extension of Mountain Trail Avenue southward to Orange Grove Avenue, when the adjoining area is subdivided and developed.

It was also decided at the meeting to make plans for publication of an illustrated brochure setting forth the highlights and advantages of living in Sierra Madre. This informative booklet is planned for general distribution.

Lee F. McCarty and Eugene Lunsford were elected to the Board of Directors, succeeding Sam Perlof and G. Russell Lovejoy.

Guests Entertain At Local Lions' Dinner

Members of the Altadena Lions club doubled in the role of guests and entertainers at a dinner meeting of the local Lions club Tuesday evening at the Sierra Madre hotel cafe. Led by President Julius Nasatir of the Altadena club the guests staged a lively performance before a record crowd. Harold E. Hamm and M. O. Nordstrom were picked on by the visitors to give their complete life histories from the cradle onward, in ten minutes. These local Lions gave a good account of themselves to the club's enjoyment.

Tail-twister of the Altadena Lions worked over the Sierra Madre members and is reported to have "shaken them down for real money."

The San Gabriel Lions Quartet will be guests at next week's meeting on July 30, and Ralph M. Welch, second vice-president of the Sierra Madre Lions, will present the program.

Vets Propose Civic Center As Memorial

Construction of a Veterans Memorial building in Sierra Madre was proposed this week by representatives of local veterans organizations in a letter to the city council, requesting a long term lease on the two city-owned tracts adjoining the Woman's club building on West Sierra Madre Boulevard, for the location of the proposed memorial.

Plans for a memorial building adequate to serve the cultural and recreational needs of the community as a whole were outlined in the letter which was signed by Harold Roberts, American Legion commander; Donald H. Jackson, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Mrs. Walter Nollac, president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Designed to serve as an auditorium and dance hall, the building would also provide facilities for bowling, pool and ping pong, and indoor space for basketball and volleyball.

Belief was expressed by the veterans that public interest in this project will enable them to finance the project by public subscription.

Under the plan submitted, control of the property, with the assurance of its proper maintenance, would be held by a legally authorized non-profit corporation, officers of which would be official representatives of the veterans groups.

No hard liquors would be sold or consumed on the premises of the memorial building, according to the decision of the joint committee proposing the project.

The city council voted to refer the proposal to a committee of the whole for study and consideration.

Trout are reported by National Automobile Club to be biting very well at Big Bear Lake for this time of year. Some trout being taken by trolling.

Neighbors are like pasts: we all have 'em be they five feet or five miles away. Some of us like to shut our pasts in closets and some of us like to shut ourselves in with walls, like the fellow down the road who has a beauty of a forbidding wall already erected and the foundations of his house not yet poured.

It was Robert Frost who protested for posterity, "Something there is that doesn't love a wall" when his neighbor staunchly maintained that "Good fences make good neighbors."

Walls or fences, one is blessed who, finding the thermometer at 100 and the ice-tray filled with water and the prospect of tepid tea staring him unquenchingly in the mouth, has a neighbor who will share his toted 50 pounds of ice to the extent of a generous chunk, and with no less gentle remonstration than "Why in hell did you have to pick the damned hottest day in the year to defrost your damned icebox?"

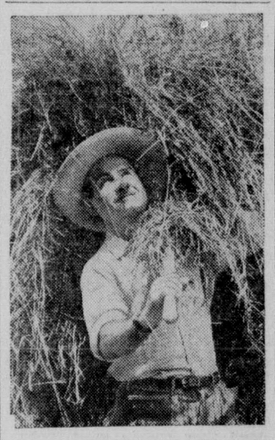

I rather like a fence. Not so much for keeping out as for marking the limits of the ground that is ours to tend, for affording a pleasing frame for a house, and for offering support to such as rambling roses. Most of all I like a fence with a gate that can properly close in or open out according to the needs and niceties. I'd be inclined to say, in fact, that good gates make good neighbors.

Or maybe good neighbors are good, fences not considered. I don't know. We've had them, good and bad alike, with and without dividing marks. Sometimes it seemed that the wrong fence came with the right neighbor, and sometimes that no fence at all could have helped the situation. As newlyweds our first house was a duplex with a young couple on the other side of the partition. A fence would have been a nuisance barrier to our enthusiastic sharing of apple pies and symphonies.

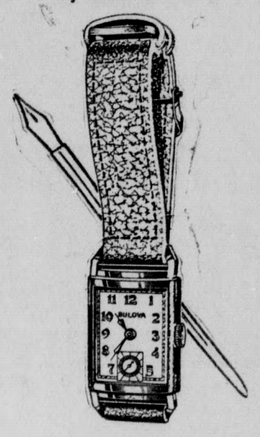

Mutually, however, we should have liked to put some excuse for hesitation between our dwelling and the one across the driveway. The dowdy matriarch of that establishment, a sort of combined boarding-house and gossip center, had a heart big enough to explain her full-bosomed front. It took only her first visit, the morning after our last possession had been dumped in the middle of the floor, to discover that her generosity wasn't limited to such as the wilting daisy-heads she'd "fetched over fer our first blooms in the leetle home." She was equally as generous with news of her folks and friends and their indispositions and operations and childbirths and squabbles. All of which I might have found grotesquely interesting had I not been faced with the nightmare of fishing order out of chaos in our three rooms and tossing together edibles that might be identified as The First Meal. I suppose it was when she remarked, as her completed stem-to-stern stare at my disarray settled on my sparsely sandaled feet, "I do declare, you and I has the same punk toes" that I decided, neighborliness or no, I've work to do and this must end, and retreated.

Even the best of fenceless neighborliness can be brought to the straining point by dogs that aren't particular as to which tree belongs to whom, or by cats that prefer the adjacent lot for their moanful midnight loving, or (and I speak as the culprit) by children.

When I was four, my next door pal and I all but wrecked three beautiful neighborships, and it took more than fences to set them right again. Johnny and I discovered that eggs make for the finest mudpies. We were smart, though; we didn't just ask properly for them in our own kitchens, and have our plans squelched before the first output, or sneak them out of our pantries and face discovery after the first few days. We decided to borrow each from the other's cook, and both of us alternating with a third neighbor, saying in each case that our respective mothers had sent us for the use of an egg or two. It made for the pleasantest mornings. Our adhesive ingredients were supplied with most neighborly smiles and no questions and the resulting mudpies were of the most satisfying quality. Life was sweet. Until the morning I had to confess to Johnny that Mother, who had a reckoning with Cook, had begun to Simply Not Understand why his mother had need for so many eggs, and Johnny admitted that his mother was getting Fairly Provoked that Mother hadn't returned a single one of the Goodness Knows How Many eggs she'd borrowed recently. We could only guess at what the third neighbor, Mrs. Butler, was thinking, so we decided to limit our mudpie baking to every other day, hoping that maybe the borrowings would be forgotten in the interims. Which evaluation of time and the mind proved to be as fanciful as, I now know, children are prone to make. For shortly thereafter Mrs. Butler, who, having no children, was perhaps the least long-suffering of the three, confronted our mothers separately and flatly demanded the return of the so-many eggs borrowed on such-and-such days. The inevitable two and two were put together and Johnny was whacked, I think, and I was sentenced to some equally stern instruction, and our fine two-man mudpie business was dissolved in tears. I don't believe the three good ladies, who had always returned the cup of sugar doubled, interchanged in the fine neighborly institution of borrowing for years afterwards.

One Way Milk Containers Back

Housewives in many sections of the country can look forward to relief from home handling of milk bottles and the routine job of carting them back to the store. Expansion of facilities to increase production of fibre milk containers already is under way in the planned distribution of the one-trip package to areas where it has not appeared in use before. Pioneered before the war but with its production expansion slowed by war shortages the paper container is finding increased popularity with the housewife. Recent surveys show the preference for fibre running as high as nine to one in retail outlets. With industry spokesmen predicting an annual output of more than 10 million units when plant facilities are available and new distribution areas have been opened up, the American Can Company has started a $4,500,000 expansion at four of its plants to increase the company's flat-top reclosable fibre milk container production by 40 per cent. A new plant also will be put in operation this year at Chicago. Canco plans to give first attention to building up production of the quart sizes enabling dairies to pack the largest possible volume of fresh milk. Next will come production increases of pint and half-pint containers.

For Traffic Safety Golden Rule Urged

"Driving your car as you would have others drive, will go a long way toward creating a safer state," declares The Public Safety Director of the National Automobile Club. "It would appear natural that individuals are courteous but courtesy is frequently lacking among motorists. By driving our highways in a spirit of cooperation, each motorist can do his part toward reduction of accidents and make it smart to be safe."

During the first six months of 1946 there was more industrial expansion in the Los Angeles area than in either the full year 1944 or 1945, according to a report made yesterday by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee.

For the first half of the year, investments amounted to $92,311,986 and created jobs for 17,803 persons in the Los Angeles industrial area including the county and adjacent territories.

During the period 142 new plants were established or had announced an intention to locate—calling for employment of 11,261 persons and representing investment of $53,123,000.

The Yosemite Valley is about 18 miles long and varies in width from one-fourth to one and one-half miles. It was discovered in 1861 by a party in pursuit of a band of Indians who made it their hiding place.

POLIO INCREASES IN L. A. COUNTY; SIMILAR ILLNESSES ALSO APPEAR

Sixteen new cases of polimyelitis were reported last week for Los Angeles county bringing the total for the year to 108 cases, slightly more than double the normal figure according to the county health department.

At the present time, according to the health department, less serious malady but with symptoms similar to those of "polio" is being mistaken for the real thing.

For the past few weeks, a condition characterized by stiff neck, frontal headache, some pain on movement of the eyeballs, and gastro-intestinal disturbances has been occurring within the County. Symptoms usually subside in a few days leaving no apparent ill effects.

Because the spinal fluid shows a moderate increase in certain cell counts, the condition is temporarily being called lymphocytic meningitis pending present study in clinical research laboratories.

DEATH COMES TO PROMINENT S. M. SOCIETY MATRON

Memorial services were held on Sunday, July 21, for Mrs. Adria B. Johnson, long time resident of Sierra Madre, at the Reynolds and Eberle mortuary in Pasadena, with the Rev. Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard officiating.

Mrs. Johnson, who was active for many years in the cultural and social life of Sierra Madre, passed away on July 18 in Pasadena.

Born in January, 1865, at East Franklin, Maine, the deceased taught school in the earlier years of her life before becoming private secretary to a judge in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. In 1903 she married Captain Frank M. Johnson and lived for many years in New London and Quaker Hill, Connecticut.

Following her husband's death in 1929, Mrs. Johnson moved to Sierra Madre where she resided for nearly 16 years. She was a member of the Woman's club, Priscilla club, and Garden club of Sierra Madre, and of the D.A.R., Browning Society and Civic League of Pasadena. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Imogene Ross, and a nephew, Harold Wilbur, both of Pasadena. Interment will be at Quaker Hill, Connecticut.

THE DONALD THAYERS PRESENT CANINE DATA AT ARCADIA COUNCIL

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thayer who have given of their time so generously in solving the dog situation in Sierra Madre were invited to appear before the Arcadia City Council last Tuesday evening. They gave a summary of the work as carried on here by the local branch of the Federation of Children and Animal Protection and its supervisor.

MODERN DANCE FEATURES CONSERSO PROGRAM, TUES.

A demonstration of rhythm and the modern dance by Barbara Hanna was enjoyed by Conserso Club members at their July meeting at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. Hanna, talented dance instructor of Pasadena, who recently presented a similar program to the Civic Club, followed up a short discussion of rhythm with three modern dances, the last being her own creation, Joan Connor assisted at the piano. Refreshments were served following the entertainment.

Plans were begun for a Carnival in September, and a report on the recent Barn Dance showed its overwhelming success.

Ruth Schmidt and Esther Flenniken were co-hostesses for the evening.

European Travel To WAC's Re-enlisting

Pull out the travel folders and shake out the old duffel bag—it's European travel for free, if you're an ex-Wac.

If you're a former member of the Women's Army Corps and can hold one of nine military classifications, you may reenlist for duty in the European theater, according to Colonel Joseph D. Raney, commanding officer of Army Recruiting in this district.

The women soldiers needed are: clerk typists, stenographers, clerks, general, statistical clerks, teletypewriter operators, cryptographic technicians, and supply clerks.

All applications must be received on or before August 7, 1946, Colonel Raney warned.

Additional information can be had at the US Army Recruiting Office at 129 North Marengo Avenue in Pasadena.

The numbers printed at the top of every Pocket Book, identifying each buyer's personal copy, are now up in the 147 millions.

RECONVERTED — After four years of Army service, John Raby is back in the lead role of Harry Davis in the NBC serial drama, "When A Girl Marries."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Ed:

Quite truthfully, do you really think that blatant noon whistle is necessary? It has been seven months since we moved into this fair community. It is not likely that we shall grow any fonder of that noisy announcement of 12:00. I have asked many people their thoughts on the subject and not one has commented favorably. I'm a busy mother or I certainly would send you a signed petition of fellow sympathizers.

I can understand using the whistle for fires, but in such a peaceful atmosphere as that of Sierra Madre, shouldn't we endeavor to enhance its beauty, rather than to detract from it?

Why not chimes? I would be a more than welcome donor.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Yvonne Z. Johnson

Artist Musicians Meet In Arcadia Garden Sunday

The Opera workshop of Pasadena artist musicians guild extends an invitation to an informal gathering Sunday, July 29, at 3 p. m., in the lovely garden of Miss Ethel Loucks at 2620 Louise ave., Arcadia.

Mary Alice Switzer, of Sturtevant Drive, will present Maria Malore, soprano, and Kenneth Hill, tenor. Guest of the afternoon will be Dr. Mary Carr Moore, America's distinguished composer.

Jean Ceraille will announce plans for the forthcoming season of opera production, assuring those who attend a pleasant afternoon.

THEY ARE LIKE THAT HERE

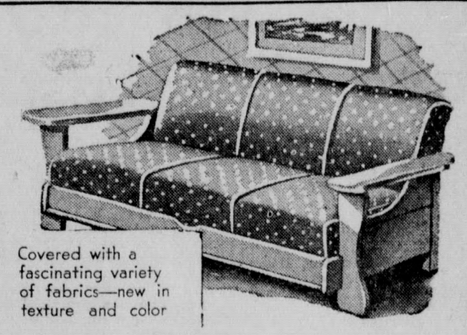

The following adv. appeared in the News last week under the Lost: "Reward for sun glasses left in P.E. Station Thursday, Custer .5-5047." Mrs H. M. Selk of 485 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., was the lady who lost the glasses. She called the News today to say that she had received her glasses. The finder put them in her bag and went to Catalina but when she read the adv., in the News she was happy to return the article to Mrs. Selk who says, "It couldn't happen only in Sierra Madre."

Veterans Exhibit At County Art Museum

More than 1,000 Southern California World War II veterans studying under the G-I Bill will enter their art and crafts in an exhibit at the Los Angeles County Museum, August 3 to September 9.

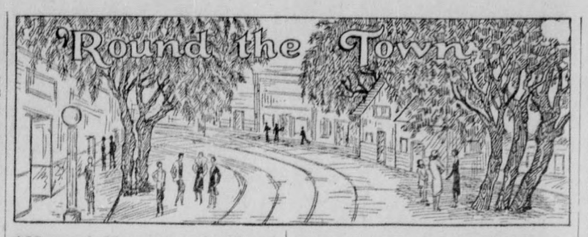

Sponsored by the California Art club in cooperation with the Veterans Administration and the museum, the exhibition will include portraits, oils, photography, cartoons, sculpturing, ceramics, costume design, industrial design and allied arts and crafts.

In announcing the showing, the Art club statement said the show is intended to focus public attention on the vast amount of artistic talent developed by veterans under Veterans Administration supervision.

The Frog TALKS about ROBERTS MARKET and things

Open your ears for wisdom speaks,
She is calling to you from afar:
"Seek for your gold in the heart of a rose,
For silver in a star."
—Florence Eakman

(This may seem a bit starry-eyed for one who is supposed to be so commercially hide-bound as I; still I like Florence's poem, and who knows but what it expresses a philosophy I dare not express otherwise? The Frog.)

KEEPING A TENDER, LITTLE EAR attuned to the remarks of MOM, POP, the Gang and You, my friends, I arrive at conclusions which are, I hope, fairly accurate.

PRICES ON SOME ITEMS ARE momentarily too high! If you will buy only what you need, production will continue its land-slide tendency until it bumps up against a saturated market, and THEN prices will start dropping. If the Government will leave us alone, I predict that within a year you will see lower prices on all food products than you have seen in five years. Competition is keen! Remember Sugar at 10 lbs. 29c? Carrots at 5 bunches for 10c? Grapes at 6 lbs. 10c? Hamburger at 19c lb.? Potato salad at 10c lb.? Well, I do! (But of course that was in 1935.)

REGARDING OUR SLIGHT INCREASE in price on items which must be replaced daily or weekly, please remember this: Much of the increase in the price of essential foods is due to the removal of OPA subsidies. A subsidy is a dog in the manger! It is the subterfuge used by power-hungry bureaucrats to make you think prices are low because the true price is not shown on the shelf. For instance, the subsidy on meat was say 5c per pound. That was a grant to the packers, but it was not reflected in the price at which the retail butcher was told to sell his meat, if any! Still that 5c per pound was being paid by every taxpayer in the U. S., and if you are a vegetarian, you were, under the subsidy system, helping to pay for the meat consumed by meat eaters. The same thing applies to butter, coffee and a multitude of other items.

YES, WE HAVE BUTTER, and while it seems high at 69c, it actually costs you less than it did under the OPA subsidy system.

THIS WEEK WE ARE ABLE TO offer you once again Aged Cheddar Cheese and American Loaf Cheese, together with a fine assortment of Wisconsin Swiss and other desirable varieties. And at prices comparable to old OPA ceilings. These are available in both the Grocery and Delicatessen departments.

IT PLEASES MY EAR TO HEAR the butchers say, "This week end we will have plenty of almost everything for everybody, including bacon and ham!" The cases are full, and believe me the prices are lower than at most markets.

CLARE HAS ASKED ME TO recommend to you epicures the humble, but home-made products of our own kitchen: MEAT LOAF AND PORK SAUSAGE.

PERHAPS IT IS CONCEIT on my part, but I think little need be said about the quality and variety of the crisp vegetables and tasty fruits offered for your approval in MY department. However, I cannot refrain from mentioning our fresh-picked, early-morning Golden Corn; our vine-ripened, local Tomatoes; our ready-to-eat Cantaloupes; and our personally-selected Hale Peaches!

POP SEEMS TO BE BURNED UP about the necessity for dumping much-needed wheat in huge piles on the ground in the Middle West because storage space and shipping facilities are unavailable. He says the inevitable rain will come along and destroy this open stock pile before anyone gets a chance to use it, and — oh, well, he thinks the whole thing is economically unsound!

If Life an empty bubble be,
How sad for those who cannot see
The rainbow in the bubble!
F. Locker-Lampson

And so you see what I try to be, inconsistent but still persistent—

by MAXINE BALLING

IF YOU are one of these persons who doesn't like to be bothered with money, you can now buy things at the Balling Baby Shop WITHOUT money. . . that is, until the end of the month. We've had so many nice customers tell us they like to buy things on the charge account plan that we've had our comptroller (that's the smart way to say bookkeeper) fix up our books for 30 day charge accounts. So now you can say "charge it" and we'll send you a statement at the end of the month.

Another special service at the Balling Baby Shop which many customers are really beginning to take advantage of is CUSTOM-MADE DRESSES. I don't know whether it's the famous California sun, or the modern trend to vitamins, but there seem to be more and more little girls with tummies about two inches larger than the sizes of ready-made dresses. So . . . we get a lot of orders for custom-mades. It takes a while, so if you want made-to-measure frocks for school opening, get your order in.

A cute new convertible bed was written up in Better Homes & Gardens, just as they arrived at the Balling Baby Shop. Wasn't that nice of B H & G! Opened out, it is a bed for the car or "visiting out." Then when Baby wants to sit up, the bed is folded into a safe and comfortable seat which you can hook over the back of the car seat. (Water-proof mattress, too!).

This little column didn't exactly help win the war, but we did learn the other day that one nice soldier who came home from camp in Virginia read it regularly in the paper his folks sent him.

In addition to our new 30 day charge account service, you can also "lay it away" with a small deposit, or we will wrap it for a gift or mailing. If you've read this far without thinking of something you should buy at the Balling Baby Shop at 401½ South Myrtle in Monrovia, how's about swim trunks? Oh, it's a little GIRL! O.K. we still have lots of lovely seersucker sun suits!

MURPHY, THE PET LORY BIRD, TAKING HER DAILY BEVERAGE FROM TALL GLASS

Pet Australian Lory Bird Keeps Household Amused

Wonderland cave in Arkansas has the only natural underground nightclub in the nation. More than 500 feet in the earth, the dance floor accommodates 200 couples.

The first Hawaiian dictionary and grammar was published in 1827.

Murphy, a 2½-year-old lory bird, pet of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haynes at 68 Vista Circle drive, enjoys drinking her favorite root-beer beverage from a tall glass and water for bathing wherever she can find it.

Everything from a gold fish bowl to water in flower arrangements helps Murphy to keep up her average of a dozen baths a day. A Turkish towel rub by her master only prepares the bird for another dip in her favorite glass bowl, where she performs her ablutions with loud squawking and flapping of wings.

A colorful member of the parrot family, Murphy sports feathers of green, red, gold, chartreuse and royal blue above black velvety feet. She chews up lamp shades for amusement and eats at the dinner table, everybody's plate is hers. Potto, the Haynes' cocker spaniel, is her playmate. She climbs up his ears and nose, scampers over his back and romps with him about the house, always warning him away, however, from her bathing bowl.

Another pet of the Haynes' household is the Mexican double yellow head parrot that talks, wanders in the garden and sometimes also condescends to play with Potto.

To hold a stained spot tight while trying to remove it from the cloth, use embroidery hoops.

Central Siberia, in which in winter at times the thermometer registers 60 and sometimes as low as 75 degrees, has the coldest climate of any habitable portion of the globe.

Pride and Prescriptions

Our business is the compounding of prescriptions: And we take pride in our work. We employ only skilled registered pharmacists; our drugs are fresh and potent; our prices uniformly fair. COMMANDER of the Task Force is Vice Admiral William H. P. Blandy, USN, Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Special Weapons. Vice Admiral Blandy, of Washington, D. C., has served in the Navy from the Vera Cruz Campaign in 1914 through both World Wars. He has served on battleships, cruisers, and destroyers, and in this war as Commander, Amphibious Group One, Pacific Fleet; Commander, Cruisers and Destroyers, Pacific Fleet; and Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance. He has received Gold Stars in lieu of a second and third Distinguished Service Medal for his actions as an amphibious Commander at Peleliu, Anguar, Ulithi, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, and Nansei Shoto.

CHIEF of the Army Air Forces to be used in the tests is Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, USA. Maj. Gen. McAuliffe served in this war with infantry, artillery, and airborne units. He commanded the 103rd Infantry Division in France, and was Artillery Commander of the 101st Airborne Division, in the European theater.

"WEAPONEER" who made history with the first Atomic bomb is Rear Admiral William S. Parsons, USN, chief assistant to Admiral Blandy in the coming Bikini tests. Rear Admiral Parsons, of Fort Sumner, N. M., was assigned to the Manhattan Engineer District, Santa Fe, N. M., for the Atomic bomb experiments in 1943. He served as associate director of the project and then as officer-in-charge of the overseas technical group. He has served at sea on battleships, destroyers, and cruisers, since he received his commission in 1922.

TECHNICAL Director under Admiral Blandy is Dr. Ralph A. Sawyer, a Navy Commander from 1941 to February, 1946. Dr. Sawyer is professor of physics now on leave from the University of Michigan, and was war-time laboratory director at the Naval Ordnance Proving Grounds, Dahlgren, Va.

Cookery QUERY CORNER

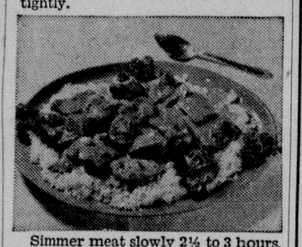

How Is Heart Fricassee Prepared?

Order a medium-size beef heart. Wash it, and trim off hard parts, if necessary. Cut meat across the grain, in pieces about 1 to 1½ inches thick. Dredge with 6 tablespoons flour.

Brown meat all over in 3 tablespoons lard or drippings. Season with 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and 2 teaspoons grated onion. Add ½ cup water, and cover tightly.

Simmer meat slowly 2½ to 3 hours, or until tender. Make gravy with drippings; serve meat and gravy on a bed of boiled rice. Serves 6 to 8. Note: Veal, pork, and lamb hearts may be prepared in the same manner.

"ONE OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE"

It's an old saying, but was never truer than when applied to caring for your car . . . that precious car that can't be replaced for a long, long time.

Ability to PRODUCE...

That is a fundamental characteristic of Industry - the miracle of American ingenuity. The ability to produce, under all kinds of conditions, has been proven time and time again . . . Today you will find Industry, everywhere, overcoming its handicaps, breaking through the obstacles that surround it, leaping the hurdles before it.

With the settlement of most of the major strikes, manufacturers of material of all kinds, including telephone equipment, will soon be "hitting their stride", and peacetime production will be on its fast and furious way.

Just the moment our new equipment arrives, installations will be made with all possible speed.

FIRE FLAMES

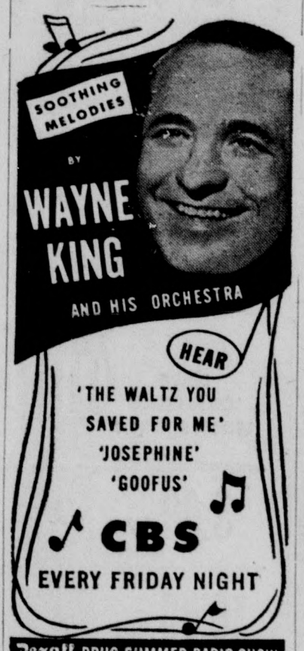

Few Sierra Madre citizens are aware that we are now owners of the California State Fire Truck that has long been with us. The price was such that had the city refused to buy it, there were many individuals (including the writer) who would have paid twice the amount to become the owner. It has proven a valuable piece of equipment for fire fighting and before the arrival of the new American La France, this state truck was very much relied upon. And now that we have repaired and painted "Old Snort", we have three trucks that are ready to go. . . Some may think this excess and superfluous. There are a great number of people who cannot see the use of fire equipment that appears to stand idle. However none of these can predict when we may be the victims of a fire large enough to need even more than three trucks, and depending on the help of neighbor cities is not what would be considered the most reliable source of preparedness. They might be in the same fix and want our help. Let's hope that all three of the trucks depreciate from lack of use, rather than from fighting fires. . . The contract with the State and County during the war period gave Sierra Madre an extra truck and also sufficient funds to pay our firemen $6:00 for each night they staved at the station in readiness. This contract no longer exists and therefore the men who have been staying at the station will miss the $6.00, but so far, none of them have failed to sign up the schedule to continue with the practice. The schedule is filled into September. This is a great relief to the night police receiving the night fire calls who are usually alone at the station, and is a real safety measure. Those who volunteer their time should be very highly commended for their sacrifice. There really should be no reason why a county as rich as our own should ask men to give so much time for so little. However and at any rate, we have the responsibility of preventing fires as long as we have this charge with a likelihood that a fire could destroy valuable belongings, we are obligated to adhere to the words of a conscientious fireman and at all times do our utmost to keep the FIRES OUT. Prevention still remains a pound better than cure.

NECESSITY OF THE FARM

Burn down your cities and leave our farms, and your cities will spring up again as if by magic; but destroy our farms and the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the county.

Water Must Soak Deep to Make Grass Drouth Proof

Whether your lawn lives or dies may be determined by the manner in which it is watered. Probably more lawns perish through lack of moisture than from any other single cause.

It is quite true that sprinkling systems, by making the job so easy, have contributed largely to the poor appearance of much grass area. It has become too easy to turn off the sprinklers.

Probably not one amateur in fifty pays sufficient attention to the matter of watering his lawn. The ground actually should be soaked. The moisture must be allowed every possibility for seeping through the upper soil levels and penetrating to the lower depths. Any other treatment is sure to encourage shallow rooting, a condition that can not possibly support a healthy top growth.

The feeding roots of grasses, as well as of all other forms of plant life, seek out their food and moisture supply. They grope for moisture. If the soil deep down is damp then the roots will grow downwards, a condition that is highly desired. But light sprinkling provides only a little moisture on the surface and the roots curl up towards this damp area.

Then some day a hot wind dries out the surface and the root zone becomes entirely arid. The roots thus have lost their water supply and the grass takes on a withered and dying appearance. But if the moisture has soaked into the soil for several inches then this area does not become adversely affected by the wind. And the grass roots several inches below the surface in the feeding area will go right on with their job of utilizing this water supply.

As a result a deep rooting plant will continue to support a husky top growth even in spite of a drying and penetrating wind. It is only necessary that sufficient moisture be provided at watering time to insure some of it getting several inches below the surface, to encourage deep not shallow rooting. The next time you water your lawn let the sprinklers run for fifteen or twenty minutes. You'll be amazed at the results.

Flowers for Cutting Adorn Both the Garden and Home

Annuals grown for cut flowers serve a dual purpose. They add a great show of color to the outdoor garden and may also be utilized to excellent advantage for indoor decoration.

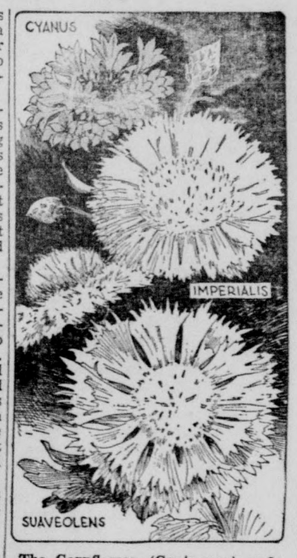

Not all annual flowers lend themselves to this use. Good flowers should have a capacity for long life after being cut; the stems should not be too short or it may be difficult to display them in an adequate vase; their odor, if any, must be pleasant, since an obnoxious odor can not be tolerated in a cut flower. Then, too, the plant should be a heavy producer.

The godetia, also known as "farewell to spring," deservedly is one of the most popular of all cut flowers. The plants grow rapidly, requiring little care or attention to speed them into an early bloom. The average garden loam should suffice for this plant. The favored variety is Duke of York, which has primrose-like flowers, the crimson petals being set off by a white center. The plants grow to a height of approximately two feet and will tolerate a certain amount of shade.

Asters have much to offer as cut flowers, since a wide range of colors may be obtained. Some of the flowers are single and quite small, while others such as the California Giants measure from five to six inches across and are carried on stems frequently attaining a height of two feet. Asters require an open exposure, a rich soil and plenty of moisture coupled with excellent drainage.

One of the easiest annuals to grow is the cornflower or Bachelor's Button. These flowers thrive on neglect and practically any type of garden soil will suit their demands. Although the double blue Bachelor's Button is the best known member of this tribe there are nevertheless other colors such as red, pink, purple and white which will be found useful for indoor decoration. The Bachelor's Button requires plenty of sunshine and the flowers should be picked almost as soon as they are out of the bud stage. Do not let them go to seed for the seed producing procedure saps a great deal of the plant's energy.

Other varieties of ornamentals that are recommended for the cut flower garden include: calendulas, coreopsis, gaillardias, scabiosa, phlox, marigolds and zinnias for planting during the warmer months of the year.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

LET MEN COOK DIFFERENT EGG DISHES

HOMEMAKING SPECIALISTS of the General Electric Consumers Institute

A lot of men like nothing better than an occasional fling in the kitchen. Whether yours be a cooking amateur or tried professional, give him a chance to dabble with these General Electric Consumers Institute recipes. Some pretty delicious dishes will probably result. And incidentally, for you it will mean an occasional vacation from kitchen chores.

The meal men prepare most is breakfast, which can become pretty tame and boring. With the good old basic egg, however, there are still ways to have a little cooking fun . . . and a different meal.

Puffy Egg Omelet
Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

Serves 6 Skillet Time 8 to 12 min.

Melt in skillet . . . 2 tsp. butter
Turn to low and heat pan for 5 min.
Beat . . . . . 4 egg yolks
Add . . . . . 3 tbsp milk
½ tsp. baking powder
¾ tsp. salt
Mix well.
Beat until stiff . . . 4 egg whites
Fold in carefully. Egg yolk mixture
Pour in skillet, cover, and cook 5 min. on low heat.
Remove cover and cook 6 to 8 min.
Cut through center, fold over and serve on hot plate.
Garnish with . . . . fruit, jelly, or watercress

Good Omelet Tips

Here are a few tips that will insure a good omelet. Be sure to beat separately the egg whites and yolks. The yolks should be beaten until thick and lemon colored, and the whites until they are stiff but not dry. If eggs are removed from refrigerator for half an hour or so before using, the beaten whites will have more volume and thus make a fluffier omelet.

Don't have too thick a mixture. To serve more than 6 people it is necessary to make two omelets. Any omelet using 6 eggs should be made in a large skillet.

Be sure egg yolks are well beaten and mixed.

Omelet Variations
From the G-E Consumers Institute

SPANISH OMELET—After the omelet is on the plate, pour over a sauce made of tomatoes, green peppers, salt, butter and pepper. Garnish with parsley.

MUSHROOM OMELET—Saute 1 cup of fresh or canned mushrooms in butter. Season with salt, pepper and bit of mace.

HAM OMELET—When the omelet is cooked one-half the required time, sprinkle minced ham or dried beef over the omelet. Continue cooking. Fold and serve.

Poached Eggs Surprise
Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

Place on broiler slices of bacon (2 strips per person) and tomato slices 1 inch thick (1 per person). Broil until golden brown. Then poach one egg per person. On a slice of buttered toast, place bacon, slice of broiled tomato, and top with poached egg. Serve.

Shirred Eggs
Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

Egg Dishes Temp. 400° Time 20 to 25 min.
Butter egg dishes.
Add . . . . . 1 tsp. milk
Carefully pour egg into dishes.
Add . . . . . ½ tsp. butter
Salt and paprika
Sprinkle with . . . bread crumbs
Bake.

Variations
From the G-E Consumers Institute

SHIRRED EGGS WITH CHEESE—Sprinkle with grated cheese and bake.

SHIRRED EGGS WITH MUSHROOMS—Arrange 1 tbsp. sauted mushrooms on top of each egg.

SHIRRED EGGS WITH DEVILED HAM—Place 1 tbsp. deviled or minced ham in bottom of cup. Carefully add the egg and bake.

TRULY is the mausoleum memorial "the last full measure of devotion." For within these sacred portals is another world. A world of comfort and consolation, where memories dwell in dignity and distinction. And here also is found the practical realization in terms of modern life, of the age-old desire for an appropriate tribute to the traditions of the family name. Yet, at this great home institution it need not be costly. For today, the selection in advance-of-need is a wise provision of this vital family protection while pre-war prices still prevail.

BUY WISELY

Indications are that in a good many cities consumers are becoming more conservative and are resisting the temptation to buy goods without regard to their price.

This attitude, if more widely adopted, will go far toward keeping prices within reach and reason. It takes a lot of self control not to dip into your pocketbook or savings account in order to obtain something you want, even when the price tag is considerably out of line with a fair value.

But in so doing you not only conserve the dollars you've saved but you protect their purchasing power as well. Even where reasonable prices prevail many consumers are not drawing down their reserve funds to buy the more expensive items such as household equipment. Rather they are keeping their savings intact for future needs and contingencies.

There won't be any excessive inflation if American consumers refuse to permit it, for, in the final analysis, they can do more through wise buying and the careful handling of their savings to prevent runaway prices than can ever be accomplished through the dictates and directives of the OPA.

So, as a consumer be sure you do your part.

WHY THE PESSIMISM?

Reports from Washington from time to time carry a doleful tone on the future of small business in America. From these reports one would gather that small enterprise in this country is all but washed up.

This pessimism, however, needs to be taken with a grain of salt. On several occasions in recent years it was used by the bureaucrats in an effort to gain more power and control over business as the "only" means of saving the little fellows. Yet, despite the somber predictions small business continues to play a most vital role in our economic life.

Since V-J Day there has been a tremendous increase in the number of new enterprises established. True, the turn-over in new undertakings is heavy. But that has always been the case, and it is characteristic of a free enterprise system in which the less efficient are weeded out.

In at least two important respects small business today is in a very favorable position. One is the enormous demand for goods and services backed up by the large war savings of the public and its present high level of income. The other is the abundant credit which banks here in California and throughout the Nation are extending to small businessmen on the most favorable terms possible to grant to them.

In view of these factors the immediate outlook for small business hardly seems to justify pessimism. From the long range view it will undoubtedly have its ups and downs as in the past, but if severe economic storms should arise banks will make every effort to help small business to carry through until the skies clear again.

When all is said and done we can be pretty sure that as long as business is carried on in America small business will be there to claim a share of it.

POPULARITY POLL

The man most surprised at the results of the recent Gallup popularity poll undoubtedly was Herbert Hoover. He placed sixth. Only Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower, President Truman, Mrs. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, in that order, of all persons living today rank ahead of him in the admiration of the American people, according to the poll.

This indicates that Mr. Hoover is either regaining his pre-depression popularity or that many more citizens than was generally realized have never accepted the accusations of his political opponents who made him the scapegoat for the Nation's economic woes during the 1930's.

Another surprise was chalked up by the widely-and-often-criticized Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace. Apparently, he too, has more friends than was generally believed for he placed seventh.

One of the interesting results of the poll was that the first ten most popular persons are all known either for their military or political activities. The fact that Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower head the list shows that their war achievements and their handling of postwar assignments continue to strongly and favorably impress the American people.

Conspicuous by their absence among the top favorites were the movie and radio stars. Either the country is thinking in a much more serious vein than it used to, or else the bobby soxers weren't given a proper voice in the poll.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES

One of the latest things in Paris is a two-tone hair-do.

This has great possibilities. The gals who can't make up their minds whether they want to be blondes or brunettes can be both at the same time.

Or would this give them a split personality?

DO YOU RECALL?

JULY 24, 1908

The Board of Trade excursion to Alamitos Bay and Long Beach was a success if ever an excursion deserved to be so labeled. On arriving at the Bay, the crowd soon scattered along the beach, or took to the skiffs and launches on the canals of Naples. Henry Hosmer and Captain Osgood tied for honors, as the most expert of the younger swimmers in the plunge.

A. D. Hawks enjoyed a call last week from Col. George L. Anderson, U. S. A., who is inspecting ordnance on this coast. Mr. Hawks and Col. Anderson were schoolmates and had not met for a quarter of a century.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bechtelheimer and son Robert returned Friday from Playa del Rey where they spent a short vacation.

Mayor H. Clay Reavis, Waverly E. Pratt, Arthur H. Embree and Vincent Fleming will represent Sierra Madre Post at the American Legion state convention at Long Beach, August 30 to September 2. They were elected without opposition at a meeting of the Post Monday night.

A crowd that overflowed the available seats and onto the lawn about the lily pond greeted the Pasadena Elks' band at the first concert of the season at Sierra Madre City Park, Wednesday evening. The size of the audience and its outspoken appreciation of the program gave assurance of a series of concerts under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sierra Madre veterans of the Spanish-American War swapped yarns last night at one of the most interesting sessions ever held by the local American Legion Post. Burr McIntosh and Col. H. B. Hersey, shipmates in the Cuban expedition, were headliners on the evening's program of war stories. Other guests who contributed to the evening's entertainment were Dr. C. T. L. Herbert, City Manager Al S Myers, Harry Holland, Charles G. Davis, and A. G. Goodier, all of Sierra Madre.

George Hapgood has announced a dance and entertainment as features of the formal opening of Orchard Camp under his management tomorrow night. An Hawaiian orchestra and entertainers have been engaged for the occasion and a special rate has been made for week-end visitors and participants in the opening.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

LONDON Odds and Ends in the British Capital. When I was in Dublin the Misses Elizabeth and Lily Yeats who had been so Charmingly hospitable and generous in sharing their distinguished friends with me, had seen fit to apologize for not having given me a card of introduction to their famous brother, William Butler Yeats, the poet and playwright. "Although he is our brother," they said "even we seldom see him, and never without a special appointment." That was not difficult to understand, for I knew that by reputation W. B. Y. lived apart in a world of his own imagining, that he was temperamental and shy and probably often annoyed by persistent celebrity hunters. But when I was about to leave Dublin, one of the sisters —perhaps as a gesture of compensation—offered to give me a letter to Bernard Shaw in London, which I accepted—as a gesture of compensation. Now, even at that time I had begun to feel that being introduced to famous, busy persons, unless it came about casually and without requiring a special appointment on their part, could easily be an embarrassing encounter. It is presumptious at best, it seemed to me, to take up the great one's time simply to have the satisfaction of meeting him—and then being able to say so! In the case of Bernard Shaw, whom I greatly admired, my feeling of presumption was tripled. However, since Miss Yeats, one of his good friends, had given me the letter, I sent it to his address when I arrived in London, and was, I admit, greatly relieved to receive a prompt note from his secretary saying that Mr. Shaw had just left for the French Riviera and would not return to London until September.

I did, however, keep my appointment with Mr. Robin Flower, whom I had also met in Dublin, to look him up at the British Museum, to see some of the rare manuscripts, of which he was one of the curators. The vast British Museum is a fascinating place, from the gallery of its popular round reading room, similar to that in our Library of Congress, to the quiet, locked rooms where repose so many of the unique treasures of past ages. Mr. Flower took several of the rarer manuscripts from their locked cases and allowed me to turn their fine old vellum pages, their margins richly illuminated with curious drawings and scroll work by patient monks and scribes in their cloistered cells centuries before America was discovered. There were droll bestiaries with their quaint drawings of animals obviously never seen by the artist, a 2nd century manuscript of the Latin poems of Statius, who died in 96 A.D., and the huge book containing the Codex Aureus, made for the Emperor Charlemagne in the 800's. In a case in one of the public rooms Mr. Flower showed me the famous Cotton M.S. of the Old English epic of Beowulf —whose printed text I had recently been struggling with in the original tongue. This priceless manuscript had a narrow escape from a destructive fire in Westminister in 1731—marks of which it still shows. Mr. Flower also took me to the room containing the sculptured bas-relief friezes from the Parthenon, secured to the nation in 1816 by the much discussed and criticized efforts of Lord Elgin, and thenceforth known as the Elgin Marbles. We also saw the recently made Pennsylvania University British Museum collection from the excavations in Ur of Mesopotamia among which was the remarkably well-preserved clay or stone figure of a priest dating back to about 2800 B.C.

But even the best museums suddenly become "stuffy" — at least to one's epidermis—on a warm summer day, and so, after three hours of fascinating confinement, I pulled myself away for a stroll in the open air, down Southampton Row. Having heard of the popular restaurants in the "A.B.C." bread shops. I entered one and had an excellent early supper of the popular things; a cup of "Bovril" with "biscuit" (which is precisely a soda-cracker), a Welsh rarebit, a salad of cress, cucumber, and radish (quite peppery, that!), tea and a Dundee cake. It was a popular place, well-filled, and in somewhat the same careless disarray as some of our own popularly-priced arm-chair lunch rooms during rush hours. Of somewhat higher class, the famous Lyons restaurants I found to be similar to those of Childs in this country in food and prices. At Lyons however, the floors were carpeted and there was a lively orchestra dispensing music for the patrons. So much for popular, medium priced places. When it comes to providing luxurious service and surroundings at top prices, London hotels are nothing behind the most expensive in New York, as I surmised on very brief visits to the Savoy, the Ritz, and the Cecil. From the appearance of its drawing rooms, smoking room, bar, and sumptuous dining room, my choice—if I were possessed of unlimited means and a beautiful bride delighting in luxury—would be the Cecil! Its terrace above the Thames, fanned by cool river breezes, is especially attractive. Here I called upon an old friend of my college days in Boston, Mrs. Crosby, who was staying at the hotel, which she found was something of a perpetual pageant, because Indian maharajahs and their picturesque retinues frequently put up there.

It was interesting to note the freedom of movement and action on the part of spectators which the London music halls and cinemas provide. At the huge Stoll's Kingsway Picture Theatre, whose front extended the length of a New York block, ices and drinks were being served by vendors in the audience throughout the program, as well as in the refreshment room adjoining. Both men and women were smoking in all parts of the house, and I saw cigars and pipes as well as cigarettes. Edna Ferber's "So Big" was the feature, and the accompanying American comic films struck the British sense of humor effectively, judging from the hearty laughter I heard from all parts of the house. An orchestra of both men and women furnished snappy music at intervals. It was Saturday night and everybody was in gala mood. The four tiers of boxes were filled, but I noted there fere few people in the more expensive pit—where seats sold at 2s4d (about 55 cents in American money). On reflection I can say that never have I been in a large mixed audience whose members were more obviously enjoying their evening in a completely "correct" manner.

450th Anniversary of the OLDEST CITY in the New World

Ask the Professor

By H. F. Noake

Dear Prof.: Life to me is just a conglomeration of sounds. Whistles, bells, voices, steam shovels and a thousand others. It's maddening. What sound do you find the most terrifying?

Ans.: Motorcycle cop approaching.

Dear Prof.:

Kindly tell me, what the dickens is a torch song?

Ans.: A torch song, my dear, always concerns somebody who found love, lost it, then gets lit trying to forget.

Dear Prof.:

I understand your mother-in-law suddenly packed up and moved out of your home. Tip me off, what was the complaint?

Ans.: None. Everybody was satisfied.

Dear Prof.:

I've just read where some fellow was arrested for riding a bicycle. What charge could they possibly bring against him?

Ans.: Peddling without a license.

Dear Prof.:

We used to hear a lot about the Bulls and the Bears. What's become of them?

Ans.: They've yielded to the wolves.

Dear Prof.:

It's darn hard for a fellow to find a place to pitch woo nowadays. What would you suggest?

Ans.: How about a pet shop?

Dear Prof.:

Will you kindly define the word Syntax?

Ans.: Syntax is what most of us pay in later life for the follies of youth.

Dear Prof.:

Read where a fisherman caught two fish but when he got home there were three. How do you explain this phenomenon?

Ans.: He might have caught two bass—and one smelt.

Potatoes cooked with skins on retain more of their vitamin C content than those peeled before boiling.

TELECARTS FOR VET PATIENTS

Veterans Administration Photograph.

The San Francisco Veterans Administration Hospital is one of the first to offer telecart telephone service to its patients, and Veteran Harry P. Karpilow here gives it a workout, with Nurse Faye McCane at the controls. The gadget is quite simple, consisting of a standard pay-phone built into a white cart and a cord leading to a nearby telephone outlet. The response has been enthusiastic, so all VA hospitals are getting them.

POLICE BLOTTER

A fire alarm again proved false. Such antics should and must be dealt with in a severe manner. Unless some drastic measures are practiced, such vagary may lead into serious trouble. Who knows when someone hurrying to the answer of a false report may meet with injury or death. To a fireman or policeman, a false alarm is about the lowest form of imbecility . . . Mr. Cotter, our new Humane Officer is being kept busy with the attentions required by injured animals and those roaming the streets. Recently a deserted rooster was cared for by him. Rooster having been left to starve by someone who had moved away . . . Loud yelling makes some people sore. It IS aggravating sometimes . . . Important messages are cheerfully taken care of by the police when there is no other available source . . . Found purse . . . Vandals light palm trees. Woe unto them. They will eventually get caught. This is a threat . . . Jerry Fairchild, fireman, and former policeman, could not forget his training to be alert. Recently, he discovered a large rubbish fire burning long after the regular hours and without proper attention. Because the fire was spraying the atmosphere with burned papers and embers, he applied sufficient water from a back pump to entirely extinguish the danger. The offender was fined for burning out of hours. Another lost purse. Money in it too . . . Policeman and Humane officers arrive after dog had died following a "hit and run". Dastardly act of the car driver . . . Ah! here is a barking dog report. Is that started again? Fred Lewis said that his appearance only made the dog bark more . . . The hitch on a loaded trailer broke leaving a "broken down trailer" report. A broken down policeman placed a red lantern on the wreck . . . A stolen car report reached here via Arcadia police. Car thought to be in Sierra Madre . . . BARKING DOG! I knew if they once got started, they'd keep goin' . . . Here's some bulldogs that got into a fish pond and killed some little fish. The dogs should be severly disciplined. They ought to pick on something nearer their awn shape and size. Poor little fish . . . Cotter, the Humane Officer, gets another call to help a dog in trouble . . . Another car reported stolen in Pasadena. A local resident, the owner . . . A travelling truck lost a vacuum sweeper. Fortunately, the sweeper failed to operate while rolling off the street. It would have been very hard on some of the thin pavement . . . A water main reported as leaking, water coming through the pavement. Maybe this is where the vacuum sweeper landed . . . A "loud party" report proved too much for Lewis,—he found things very quiet. Returning later, he still heard nothing but silence. Maybe the noise saw him first . . . Another water leak, this time inside the house. However, Big-Hearted Ben Mobley of the water department, shut off the water for the folks . . . Officer Henderson finds someone burning out of hours in his district. The usual result followed . . . Seven dogs inside her yard at the same time, provoked a lady from the west to call and object. Officer Cotter will have a merry chase to catch that many. He'll try . . . To see a prominent citizen turn around in front of the post office would have been bad for him had I been a cop. Such practices make it very embarassing both to the police and to those who chance on making the turn. There should be no reason for turning in front of the post office. To do so endangers the lives and safety of others who are driving north and south on Baldwin Avenue. Our one police car cannot be at all points at once. Good advice to good residents would be to avoid accidents by being careful. One way to be careful is to follow the rules of the road.

FALL SUIT— This coachman suit, for fall of 1946, is worn by Jean Mowry, of NBC's "Guiding Light," in black gabardine. The long tunic jacket flares gracefully from the hipline, has wide lapels, flap pockets and tapered sleeves. The skirt is slim as a pencil. The suit is a Youthmoor Original, member of Chicago Fashion Industries.

AT EVENTIDE — On cool summer evenings it's very nice to put on smart and comfortable pajamas like this white and black crepe outfit worn by Barbara Fuller, of NBC's "One Man's Family." Big black dots, appliqued on, and long tight cuffs make the sleeves the center of interest. The full crepe trousers are set on a wide waistband. Addie Masters, of Hollywood, design.

Opportunity Knocks For Sea Going Men

Applications are now being accepted for the entrance examinations for the next class of cadet-midshipmen at the California Maritime Academy, it was announced today. Examinations will be held in San Francisco and Los Angeles on August 17.

Youths 17 to 23 years of age with a high school education or its equivalent are eligible to apply for the cadet-midshipman course which lasts for a period of three years. Graduates of the Academy are prepared for immediate service as junior officers on ocean going ships. The course is equivalent in standards to a full college course and includes training cruises in foreign ports. Academy graduates receive a B.S. degree in nautical science and are commissioned in the U. S. Maritime Service and the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Applications may be addressed to Commandant of Midshipmen, California Maritime Academy, Vallejo, California.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

HAVE you noticed that more and more women are crocheting both practical and decorative articles — not only for their homes but for themselves, too? One of the advantages of crochet is that you can make any number of small items, which serve as handy pick-up work. That's a point to be especially appreciated during the hot summer months when most of us don't have the energy to attempt any large project. Since crochet is so popular perhaps you enthusiasts would like to know something about the historical background of this needlework art — it's an interesting story.

Although crocheting has been universally popular for the past fifty years, just where or when it began is unknown. About 1500 A.D. a hook similar to the crochet hook was employed in lace-making, to draw a thread through the lace. This hook became more and more a part of lace making, being used to make looped connections for needle lace motifs. But it was not until 1800 that crocheting — which takes its name from the French, meaning "Little Hook"—began to be used for making the lace motifs themselves, as well as the fill-in parts. Crocheting became a popular needle art about 1840—when it was taken up by Queen Victoria and the English Royal Family. Books were written on the subject, design books began to appear, and schools were established to instruct young ladies in the art of crochet. In 1846, when whole families were starving during the Irish Famine, Susanna Meredith started the Adelaide Crochet School at Cork in order to give the women a chance to earn a living. They were taught how to crochet, and their work was sold by the school.

No machine has yet been invented which can duplicate crochet work. And today, because we are so keenly appreciative of the finest in everything we use in our homes and for our wardrobes, more and more women are learning how to crochet — so that they may possess these priceless needlework treasures.

Every home should have its share of precious belongings—things that remain a joy forever. Just such an article is the lacy chair back set pictured here. Queen Anne's Lace, covering the country wayside, is brought to mind by the design of this set. Made in small round motifs, this is ideal pick-up work for spare moments. The finished sets are the perfect answer to gift problems, or how to keep your own furniture in good condition. If you would like to receive crochet directions for this set, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. 7666, LACY CHAIR BACK SET.

Positive Angle To New Atom Era

Atomic physics is about to enter a new era, and the future of the science may well be determined by the results of experiments with new high-energy particles which will be accelerated to hundreds of millions and possibly billions of electron volts by new atom-smashing machines being built at the University of California.

This was a conclusion of Professor J. Robert Oppenheimer, noted University of California theoretical physicist and leader in atomic bomb development in a discussion delivered at a meeting today on the Berkeley campus of the American Physical Society.

Dr. Oppenheimer said it is probable that nuclear physics faces the following prospects:

1. Fundamental revision of present theories of matter, and a consequent extension to new fields of science.

2. The finding of elementary nuclear particles which scientists will be able to fit into their present scheme of things to give a fairly complete picture of the atom and of the principles on which it works.

But at the present time, Professor Oppenheimer said, atomic physicists are frankly puzzled. They have no adequate explanations of subatomic particles and the way they influence each other.

From the available information it appears, Professor Oppenheimer said, that the best hope of scientists to find their way out of their dilemma is to duplicate the type of atom smashing carried on in nature by cosmic rays. This duplication may be accomplished by the new atom smashers.

The Smithsonian Institute was established by an act of Congress in 1846 which carried into effect the will of James Smithson, an Englishman, who bequeathed the United States over $515,000 for the purpose of establishing it.

County Tax Budget Rises 139 Per Cent

Los Angeles County's budget of $13,427,241 for highways and bridges for 1945-46, was 139 per cent more than the $5,611,496 spent by the county for this purpose for 1941-42, California Taxpayers' Association said today, making public its study of spending for highways and bridges by California counties.

For 1944-45 the county budgeted $9,270,018 for highways and bridges, but was able to spend only $5,615,516, the association said.

A large part of the funds which counties spend on roads and bridges comes from the gas tax and motor vehicle license taxes, the association said, pointing out that most counties budget all the amount they expect to receive from these sources.

Iowa State Picnic Set For August 3rd

Lincoln Park, Los Angeles, will be the mecca for the thousands of former Iowa people at the 46th, annual Summer picnic sponsored by the Iowa Association of Southern California on Saturday August 3.

Each of the 99 Counties and 24 colleges will have a registration unit where old friends may congregate. This park will be the WESTERN CAPITAL of Iowa and former governor Frank E. Merriam is chosen "Governor for a Day" he will speak of 100 years of Iowa and the Flag and will introduce Gov. Earl Warren who will picture a century of California and her flags.

Sincerely and cordially,
John G. Spielman, secy.

CAMERA TOPICS
by T. T. Holden*

Careful planning and a great deal of patience were the keys to this cute Graflex-made study by Norman Myers.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD PHOTOGRAPH?

None of us were born to be photographers, or painters, or writers or anything else for that matter. A feeling for good photography—picture sense—is something that comes only from patience and concentration. With the right approach, it is surprisingly easy to develop, however.

A good photographer must train his eye to "see" pictures, for his camera can photograph only what the brain behind it plans out. A good starting point is to study the work of professional photographers in newspapers and magazines. Try to discover what made the cameraman take each picture. Why did he select that particular angle? Why did he only include a certain area in his picture? What did he probably leave out of his picture and why? Analyze good photography in this way until you begin to "feel" the elements behind the picture's success.

Then start looking for pictures in your own surroundings. Use your camera viewfinder for composition and concentrate on studying different subjects from all angles. Keep an eye on backgrounds that may spoil a picture. Watch for unusual lighting effects. Try changing your viewpoint slightly to cut out unwanted areas or to include details that seem to improve the picture. Don't try to copy other pictures you have seen, but try to apply their good points to your own ideas.

Don't be in a rush to make photographs until you are sure you have gotten the feeling of a picture. When you are finally ready to shoot, make a final check to be sure that the idea you visualize is the best way to handle the subject. Take several hours, if need be, to make one photograph. You'll have just as much fun as if you blazed away at a dozen subjects and your pictures will be better for the careful study.

Then study your own pictures to see how they can be improved. Try cropping them in different ways. Study their effect on your friends to see whether or not you have put over the point you were aiming for. Practice and study. Try to learn one new thing about picture-making every day. You'll be delighted to find how rapidly your pictures improve—and how much more enjoyment you have in making them.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

SUGAR SUBSTITUTES

By the HOMEMAKING SPECIALISTS of the General Electric Consumers Institute

The war may be over and rationing may be easing up, but there's still a sugar shortage. Are you looking for new ways to conserve your supply? Homemaking specialists at the General Electric Consumers Institute who have been coping with this problem have come up with the following solutions.

Sugar Substitutes

Use the standard recipes for cakes or cookies calling for sugar but make the following substitutions:

1. Use ¼ cup less honey or corn syrup than the required amount of sugar called for in recipe.
2. When honey is used, add 1/5 tsp. soda to neutralize the acid in one cup of honey.
3. When sour milk and soda are used in the recipe, the extra 1/5 tsp. does not need to be used.
4. When mixing a cake where honey or syrup has been substituted for sugar, follow this procedure:

Cream the shortening, add the honey or syrup by pouring it in slowly in a fine stream, beating constantly. Add the egg yolks one at a time and continue to beat.

Sift and measure dry ingredients and add alternately with liquid. Beat egg whites and, lastly, fold into cake batter.

5. To sweeten whipped cream add 3 tablespoons light corn syrup or honey to the cream while the cream is whipping.
6. Keep liquid honey in a warm (about 75°F.) dry place. Placing honey in the refrigerator causes it to become granulated and very difficult to pour.
7. To liquefy honey that is solidified or granulated, place the container in a bowl of warm water until crystals are melted.

Cake made with honey stays moist longer than one made with sugar. When light corn syrup is used, the results will be the same as if the cake were made with sugar but not quite as sweet. This is preferred by many. A sweet jelly or jam used for the filling adds to the sweetness. When honey is used, a slightly different flavor results, but the sweetness is about the same as that of the sugar cake. Jelly rolls baked in an electric oven are so moist and tender that it is unnecessary to cut off edges before rolling.

COTTON TEXTILES

The cotton-textile industry has spearheaded factory growth in North Carolina from 1880 to the present. Centered in the Piedmont area, coarse yarns were spun at first but now medium and fine textures are turned out. It is a 50 million dollar business. All the world will need these products which will add to the Nation's wealth to back the Savings Bonds you buy.

ORDINANCE NO. 455

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE RESERVING A CERTAIN STRIP OF LAND IN AND UPON A PORTION OF SIERRA MADRE BOULEVARD IN SAID CITY FOR THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF OPERATORS OR DRIVERS OF TAXICABS OR OTHER PUBLIC VEHICLES FOR HIRE.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That that certain strip of land seven (7) feet in width lying Northerly of, along, adjoining and contiguous to the South curb line of said portion of Sierra Madre Boulevard, beginning at a point six feet East of the prolongation Northerly of the East property line of Baldwin Avenue, in said City of Sierra Madre and extending Easterly on said property line a distance of 18 feet, be and the same is hereby reserved for the exclusive use of operators or drivers of taxicabs or other public vehicles for hire in said City of Sierra Madre.

The Chief of Police of said City of Sierra Madre shall cause one or more appropriate signs to be erected and maintained in, along and upon said strip of land, or shall cause one or more signs to be painted and maintained upon the curbing within such strip of land and designating the provisions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 2: That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, other than an operator or driver of any taxicab or other public passenger vehicle for hire in said City of Sierra Madre, to stop, stand or park any automobile, motor truck or other vehicle in, or upon said strip of land hereinabove particularly described.

SECTION 3: That any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.00 or by imprisonment in the City Jail of said City of Sierra Madre or in the County Jail of said County of Los Angeles, at the discretion of the Committing Magistrate for a period not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 4: This Ordinance is urgently required for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the specific reason that it will remove a traffic hazard in the loading of passengers in taxicabs or other public passenger vehicles for hire in said City of Sierra Madre and therefore the immediate passage of this Ordinance is required.

SECTION 5: The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Sierra Madre News, a weekly newspaper printed, published and circulated in said City of Sierra Madre and thereupon and thereafter the same shall take effect and be in force.

The foregoing Ordinance was adopted at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre, held on the 23rd day of July, 1946, by the affirmative vote of at least four Councilmen, to-wit:

AYES: Councilmen Hoegee, Schiltz, Froehlich and Steinberger.
ABSENT: Councilman Nuetzel.
NOES: None.

and signed and approved this 23rd day of July, 1946.

Many Boys Here Plan YMCA Outing Jenk's Lake Camp

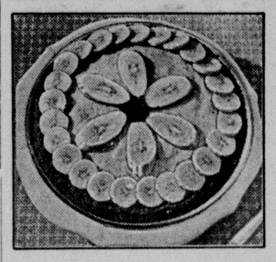

All boys of ten years of age and over planning to spend a vacation at the Jenks' Lake Summer Camp should register as soon as possible at the local Gas office or at the Y.M.C.A., 235 South Myrtle, Monrovia. The first camp period will be August 7 to 14 and the second period the 14th to the 21st.

The camp is located in the heart of the San Bernardino Mts., at an altitude of 6800 ft., 28 miles from Redlands, ideally located for a summer camp.

Good counselors, good swimming and creative recreation and lots of out-of-doors and plenty of wholesome food will be the aim of Y.M.C.A., for their summer outing.

Every 6th person in Southern California is a war veteran. In Los Angeles County there are 420, 684 World War II veterans and 107,914 veterans of other wars.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

HOT weather! Cold weather! No matter what the temperature, dinner minus dessert is never complete. But when the mercury rises, the demand is for something light and cool—not only to eat but to prepare, too.

For such days Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens suggests this special banana pie which never sees the inside of an oven. And believe it or not you won't even scoop into the flour bin to make the crust.

Chiquita Pie

Crust
2 cups crushed gingersnaps
⅔ cup melted vitaminized margarine

Filling
2 tablespoons plain, unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups mashed ripe banana
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Sliced bananas

Crush enough gingersnaps to make 2 cups (about 25), blend with the melted vitaminized margarine and press firmly into 9-inch pie plate. Chill until firm. Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add slowly to egg yolks beaten light with the banana, half the sugar and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Add orange juice, orange and lemon rind. Cool until syrupy. Beat egg whites light with salt. When stiff, add rest of sugar and beat until points are formed. Fold into thickened egg yolk mixture and heap into crust. Chill until firm.

A FILIPINO orphan is cared for in a hospital on Luzon. The critical shortage of food in war-devastated lands is causing the death of millions who could be nursed back to health. You can help them by giving money or food in tin cans to the Emergency Food Collection today.

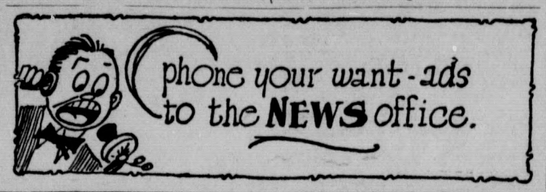

In the session record of the Calvary Presbyterian Church at Wilmington, there was found a few years ago, a resolution reading as follows: "Resolved to send a missionary to the struggling little town of Los Angeles that is rapidly growing to the north."

More than 4½ millions of pounds of whitefish is caught annually in the United States.

The United States granted 47 million acres of land to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to aid in building the railroad.

According to statistics there are nearly 150,000 institutions in the United States engaged in the work of laundrying, cleaning, pressing, dyeing and maintenance of wearing apparel, with a gross income of nearly a billion dollars.
